

Make a Plan for You and Your Family

Sit down with all members of your family and make a plan today. It is likely that when disaster strikes, you may not be together. Know what types of disasters could affect your area. Share contact information and how you will reconnect if separated. Locate a family meeting place that's easy to find and familiar.

Visit <https://www.ready.gov/plan> and learn exact steps to take when making your plan.

Sign-up for emergency alerts: www.SMCAalert.info

It is also important to consider the needs of all members of your household. This includes pets, and even visitors that may be staying with you.